

Keith L. Granger

DIRECTOR

Bio

As chief executive officer of Granger Waste Services, Keith has experience advancing a diverse range of product lines by capitalizing on technology, innovation and planned growth. His focus on developing relationships and business practices centered on integrity and mutual respect has given Granger a trusted foundation and an ideal market position.

Before becoming CEO, Keith spent 14 years guiding the sales, marketing and operational aspects of the company. Under his leadership, Granger experienced unprecedented growth in residential waste hauling, and his direction to promote operational efficiency helped establish recycling operations into a viable business venture with greater benefits for the community.

Keith holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration from Hope College and a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Michigan. He serves on several boards, including chairing the Board of Directors.
